Telegrams.

(Per Havas Agency.)

United Kingdom

London, 31st—There are fresh rumours of gold shipments to the River Plate.

A private firm is sending £60,000 by the next Royal Mail steamer sailing. This sum is part of the product of a fresh issue of Sugar Bonds.

News received from Erzeroum states that the situation is going from bad to worse and that the interference of the Powers is now more necessary than ever. Fresh and horrible massacres of Christians were perpetrated both yesterday and to-day in Orfali, an Armenian City, during which many of the inhabitants had their throats cut.

A large supply of arms and amunition have been despatched from Birmingham to the Cape of Good Hope.

News has arrived from Cape Town to the effect that 800 men armed by the Chartered Company and accompanied by field-artillery had entered Transvaal territory. President Kruger is said to be preparing to meet them in the field.

United States

New York, 31st—Telegrams received from Cuba state that two thousand revolutionists surprised an advanced guard of Spanish troops in Calimete, province of Matanzas. The rebels charged the Spanish troops twelve times and were repulsed. Reinforcements arrived and saved the situation. The revolutionists lost 240 men between killed and wounded.

Later telegrams state that the Royal troops have forced the rebel forces back on the frontier of Matanzas.

The news received is most contradictory. Both sides claim the victory.

Telegrams from Jamaica state that a rebellion has broken out among the negroes on the island.

A conspiracy to overthrow the Haytia Government was discovered in Aux Cafes on the 24th inst. The movement was immediately suppressed and the ringleaders arrested.

Spain

Madrid, 31st—The Court charged to enquire into the abuses committed by the City Fathers has found three of the latter guilty of the accusations.

Two thousand infantry, cavalry and Artillerymen left Cadiz for Cuba amidst the greatest enthusiasm.

The official organs publish this afternoon long telegrams from Havana asserting that the insurrection is daily losing ground and that the rebels will shortly have to lay down their arms as, it is said, they are running short of amunition.

To-day fresh and important skirmishes have been fought in the Provinces of Matanzas and Santa Clara, between the rebel forces and those of the Government. Both sides are reported to have suffered heavy losses owing to the exceptional ardour of those engaged; but the insurgents were compelled to retreat fighting, leaving many dead and wounded on the field. The despatches add that General Martinez Campos has resolved to pursue the rebels until they have been totally disbanded.

Señor Canovas del Castillo will ask the Queen Regent to dissolve the Cortes in February, and it is believed that his request will be granted.

Italy

Rome, 31st—The Government organs deny the ramours of a Cabinet Crisis.

General Baratieri has taken command of all the Italian forces in Abyssinia and has ordered General Arimondi to take charge of the Government of the Eritrea colony.

New 25 lire notes have been put in circulation, and the old ones will be withdrawn.

A severe shock of earthquake occurred to-day in the district of Nola, causing great damage to property. At Cacciano, near Nola, several houses were reduced to ruins, and great fissures were produced in others. Several persons have been killed, and more wounded. The panic amongst the inhabitants is intense.

Count Revertera returned here to-day from Vienna to resume his post as Austro-Hungarian Minister near the Vatican. The relations between the Papal Government and the Austrian Cabinet are now of a very cordial nature.

Hungary

Budapest, 31st—A telegram from Breslau states that a fearful catastrope occurred to-day in a coal-mine in the Wrangel district. Through the carelessness of a miner an explosion of fire-damp was produced which set fire to the working. So far 50 dead bodies have been taken up and there is but little hope that the remaining 17 miners in the mine at the time of the explosion, can have escaped with their lives.

Germany

Berlin, 31st—The Emperor has expressed to several persons belonging to the Court, his satisfaction at the extradition of Baron Hammerstein.

It is announced that Prince Leopold Arnolph of Bavaria, who up to the present has abstained from all Court ceremonies, will to-morrow be present at the reception given by the Emperor William to the high personages of the Empire.

Servia

Belgrade, 31st—The Minister of Finance has declared that there is no deficit in the Budget at the end of the financial year, and that the Treasury is in a very sound condition.

Turkey.

Constantinople, 31st—The official organs deny that the Government has auy intention of issuing paper money to meet the cost of recent events in Asia Minor and Macedonia.

France

Lille, 31st—The Criminal Court of Lille has finished the investigation of Tremblie's case, and ordered him to be tried at the Azize Court in Douai on February 3rd, Tremblie still denies every thing.

Paris, 31st—The new French Minister in Rio, M. Pichon, has been made a Knight of the Legion of Honour. M. Pichon leaves shortly for Brazil to assume his new duties.

Austria

Vienna, 31st—At the request of the Military Governor of Bosnia and Hezegovina, fresh reinforcements of troops have been sent to him.

Prince Hohenlohe left this afternoon for Berlin. The Austrian Chancellor, Count Goluchowski, saw him off from the railway-station.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 31st—A categorical denial has been given to the report that Russia proposed to protest against fresh Italian conquests in Abyssinia.

It is thought probable that the Pope will form Montevideo into an Arch-Bishopric.

Fresh re-inforcements for Africa left Naples to-day.

Chile

Valparaiso, 31st—Valderra Maes, Minister of Foreign Affairs, died this afternoon.

The shipments of gold reach six million dollars.

The Chamber of Deputies approved the treaty with Bolivia by a majority of 40 votes.

The population of this city is 138,000 souls.

Brazil.

Rio Janeiro, 31st—Exchange is quoted at 9 1/8.

Great sensation has been created by the publication of an interview between General Galvao and a reporter of the Jornal do Brazil. The Minister of War has requested General Galvao to deny the statements he made. The General does not appear in the least inclined to do so.

The political situa ion of Rio Grande is getting very glum.

Argentine Republic

Rosario, 31st—The Municipality is most careless in keeping the streets paved and lighted properly. Cesspools abound on all sides.

Prices of wheat remain between $6.50 and 6.70, and linseed from 10.30 to 10.60. Maize fetches 3.20 to 3.30.

THE NEW YEAR.

The hour glass of Time marks the close of another year. The sands of 1895 have passed into eternity. Spread out over our columns is the schedule of last year, the perusal of which will form an instructive chapter for those who study the course of the future on the experience of the past.

Day by day and month by month are chronicled the events which formed the undercurrent of our social and physical life, and we need be neither soothsayers nor seers, to stand on the portals of the new year and predict the country's march along the grand highway of progress, until we reach the next mile-stone of time, 1897.

Poor, indeed, is the River Plate philosophy that does not accept the teaching of the history of the past twelve months.

Difficulty after difficulty
Alarm upon alarm
Error heaped on error

have not baulked the country's march, or checked in one iota its productive progress, and as we step over the threshold of the new year, with all the vicissitudes of the past fresh before our eyes, we still feel a quiet confidence in the country's destiny, and that the huge wheels of the Juggernaut car of industry and production will crush to atoms every opposing element in its onward progress.

This opening of a new year is, after all, but an artificial division of time, to which nature pays no heed, but follows on in her uninterrupted course, bearing into the future the consequences of the past. Properly speaking, every day is the beginning of a new year to us, but we customarily associate the idea of entering upon a fresh period of time with the first of January, a date which serves in our journey through life as a sort of mile-stone that marks the distance between places; the one indicates no greater change in the probabilities and prospects of life than the other marks in the character of the scenery through which the road conducts the traveller. Nevertheless, most people at the close of the old year have an idea that on the first of January they begin a new series of experiences, and the public generally feels an impulse to forecast the future. Aristotle or somebody else has said that the instinct of prophecy is strong in the human mind, and New Year's day, generally speaking, gives increased activity to that impulse.

To those of our readers who are ripe in years we need hardly say, that nothing is so certain in respect of the future as the improbable, nothing more unlikely to happen than what is anticipated; and that frequently the great changes which give character to a year originate in the most obscure and trivial causes, and that when they look back upon what has actually occurred, and compare it with what they imagined they had good reason to expect they can hardly discover a point of resemblance between the one and the other.

To a much greater extent than is commonly received each of us makes his own year, and collectively the nation does the same thing. It has been truly remarked that history is made, not by blind chance, nor by inexorable fate, but by Men and Women. The history of the year we now enter on will be so made, and each of us, high and low, rich and poor, big and small; will contribute something towards the making of it. The road which opens before us will in the main direction resemble that which we have left behind. In details our experiences may and will vary, but in drift they will be the same.

We enter the New Year with certain assurances of peace, and the final settlement of the Chilian question, but we cannot close our eyes to the new dangers that surround the country with the development of military power on both sides of the Andes. The bloated armaments, the tendencies which they foster, and the burdens which they entail cloud the dawn of the New Year. The path before us, to the very limited extent to which it is visible, is broad and straight, and the men who direct the affairs of the country are good and true; and it is the great faith we have in the genius, the ability and the patriotism of General Roca and the able men who form his cabinet that fills us with confidence and enables us to front with sober trust and cheerful expectation the dark unfathomed uncertainties of

THE BOLSA DURING 1895.

Though swayed by a war-scare during the greater part of the year, the chief feature of the Bolsa has been progressive, invincible dullness. According to Don Alberto Martinez, the talented statistician of the capital, Bolsa business, gold excluded, has fallen off in the following manner:—

Sales	1893	1894	1895
	—	—	(11 months)
Cedulas.....	52,800,000	55,800,000	39,300,000

Bank shares..	72,777	67,648	37,107
Other shares..	777,459	138,948	321,763

The total movement of values on 'Change compares as follows:—

1893	6,212,677,910
1894	5,532,648,500
1895 (11 months)..	3,146,895,644

The falling-off in business is simply phenomenal, and is a good proof of the great liquidation of this crisis on 'Change. As the liquidation proceeds the Bolsa gets duller and duller, and some say with much reason, poorer and poorer.

The stockholder may read with some interest the following table of highest and lowest quotations during the year. Some of the figures may revive dullest memories. "Saudades" of burst up, crumbling stocks, but a wreck of their former glory:—

THE GOLD MARKET.

In a yearly record of the B. Aires Bolsa it stands to reason that the leading feature must be the gold speculation, which may be regarded as a barometer of the general condition of the country. It cannot be disguised that in 1895 the war-scare, the purchase of armaments, the deficit in the Budget, in fact, everything favored a rise in gold, yet the premium fell all along, excepting one month: just the reverse of 1894, when everything favored a fall, yet the market rose. It sounds strange, but logic is invariably at fault in the Bolsa.

Another prominent feature of the gold market has been the decline in the speculation, the proportions of which are growing smaller every month, which is all the more remarkable as the general business of the market is very much larger than in former years. This decrease in the speculative business we must acribe to the process of liquidation that has wiped out nearly all the big speculators in the market.

Looking at the volume of gold speculation in Dececember, we see that it was one of the smallest of a dull year, viz:—

Dec.	1st Ring	2nd Ring

It may be interesting to compare the prices of $100 gold in the months of December 1894 and 1895, to show the great change that has come over the speculation, especially in the range of fluctuations:—

If we had the good fortune to live in Valdivia our cellar would never be empty. The best beer there, and excellent beer it is, costs only five cents the litre bottle.

CITY OF BUENOS AIRES.

We may put down the population of the Argentine Capital on this New Year's Day at 676,000 souls. The births during the eleven months ending November 30th, were 24,674, which gives the extraordinary birth-rate of 40 per mil, and entitles Buenos Aires to the title of Most Prolific Capital in the world. During the same period there were 13,499 deaths and 5035 marriages; thus both death and marriage ratios are low; the natural increase is about 20 per mil.

During the eleven months these 676,000 greedy inhabitants consumed 28,109 tons of beef, 12,000 tons of mutton, 1,000 tons of pork, etc. etc., as follows:—

563,849	steers
855,231	sheep
11,838	hogs
2,384	sucking pigs
1,700,000	hens and chickens.
84,000	turkeys
94,000	ducks
30,000	geese
19,000	armadillos
69,000	rabbits
1,716,000	brace partridges
4,000,000	dozen eggs
74,765	tons vegetables
34,430	tons fruit
619	tons cheese
5,164	tons fish
382	tons snails
576	tons butter
1,021	tons tripe

Buenos Ayres may also claim to be the best fed city in the Universe. We are sorry we cannot obtain the figures of liquids imbibed to wash down all the above.

The tramway traffic shows the growth and prosperity of the city. The results of the eleven months show a 10% increase in the number of passengers: this is a formidable increase.

There are 382 kilometres of tram lines: the companies report 1,972,984 trips, and the carriage of 76,882,911 passengers: the total for 1895 may be calculated at 84,000,000 passengers, say 9 to 10% over the figures of 1894. These 76,882,911 passengers were carried by the following tramway companies:—

	Passengers
City of Buenos Ayres....	25,797,000
Anglo-Argentine.....	25,349,000
Capital.....	3,714,000
Belgrano.....	5,484,000
La Nueva	6,573,000
Gran Nacional.....	4,732,000
La Rural	3,520,000
Metropolitana.....	1,220,000
Cent. Arg. (Belgrano)....	192,000

The railways, on the other hand, carried 7,223,000 passengers and 2,256,000 tons of goods: we may calculate the total of the 12 months at 7,880,000 passengers and 2,461,000 tons goods.

Don Alberto Martinez gives the following totals of the sale of real-estate in the city during the eleven months. We may add that whilst the movement in real-estate is increasing in the capital, it is falling off in the province. The following are the figures for the 11 months in this city:—

Number of sales.....	8,116
Area sold	9,324,977 sq. mts.
Value.....	62,421,680 $m/n
Average value per metre.....	6.69 $m/n

The principal average values per parish were as follows:—

Catedral al Norte....	200 per sq. metre
San Miguel.....	140 "
Catedral Sur.....	243 "
Piedad.....	101 "
San Nicolás.....	113 "
Flores.....	0.78 "
Belgrano.....	4.20 "

The principal Nationalities are classified as follows in this movement in real-estate:—

By	Sales	Purchases
Argentines	29,000,000	23,400,000
Italians.....	14,000,000	14,600,000
Spaniards	3,600,000	5,100,000
French.....	3,400,000	7,700,000
English	1,900,000	1,740,000

"Retroventas" did not amount to five millions, but mortgages figure for 22,159,000 $m/n over one half of this is mortgaged by Argentines, one-sixth by Italians.

SPORT

CRICKET.

The fixture announced of B.A.C.C, v. Hoy Hoys for to-day at Palermo will not come off, the latter club not being able at the last to get up a team.

The following will represent Mr. H. Gibson's XI. v. The Flores Ramblers to-day at Lomas. Play to commence on arrival of the 12.30 from town:—

G. M. Comber, G. E. Leslie, H. Ritchie, H. Dodds, E. Macgregor, P. Bridger, W. G. Cowes, H. Cowes, D. Gibson, C. Gibson and S. Gibson.

TURF.

As the season can now be considered practically closed, we regale our sporting readers with the following items in the statistics line. During the year the Jockey Club held 36 meetings, which absorbed $620,575 paper and 800 Argentines gold in prizes, the National Club, with 25 meetings, giving $354,700 on this head, so that the total given in prizes amounted to $957,275 paper and 4,000 gold. We are glad to see Mr. Kemmis's horse Phœnix again at the top of the tree, as the sire whose progeny has won most in stakes, and he is considerably ahead, as can be seen by the following table:

Phœnix	106,285
Neapolis.....	82,535
Saint Mirin.....	78,906
Orbit.....	74,740
Acheron	66,369
Whipper-In.....	68 832
Noé	53,815

and it must be borne in mind that, with exception of the Gold Cup, none of the great classics have helped Phœnix to his high estate.

As regards winning studs the Lincoln stable, thanks to Lee's very brilliant end-of-season form, has dislodged the Indecis stable from the premiership, though there is only $3,500 difference between the two, whilst the Stud Belgrano, which comes third, is nearly $30,000 behind the second. We congratulate Mr. Brett, the Indecis trainer, on his great success, and hope to see him at the very top next season. The following are the figures:—

Abraham Lincoln.....	98,649
E. Indecis.....	95,131
E. Belgrano.....	68,969
E. Azur	45,355
E. Gladiateur.....	32,662

As regards the winning jockeys the following is their position with number of victories:—

Aguilera 69, Garrido 38, Bayardi 29, Diaz 26, Olmos 25, Bastiani 21, Paez 21, Aguirre 19, Sosa 21, Cardoso 14, Oroná 11.

The season has been remarkable for some heavy dividends, the principal being the two recent upsets in Belgrano. The following shew all over $50:—

Norah	205.91
Citron.....	141.44
Porteño	92:89
Loadstone	62.90
Junio	53.95
Elaine.....	182 50
Excelsior	100.74
May Blossom.....	92.68
San Lorenzo.....	71.17
Grillon	61.71
Cabula	56.57
Financista	59.11

We have not at hand the data of the wins of the three-year-olds, but the Neapolis youngsters should be well in the van, with Orbit close up. As to the coming season, we may expect to see St. Honorat (first time) occupying a prominent place, as also Orville and Havre, three new strains. Taking everything into account, Mr. Casey's stock gave as good an account of itself as anything else, with Porteño. Imposible, Ultimo, Duque and Necio, as it was a small batch, whilst the Luro lot was almost a total failure, Cartujo and Combate, both by Stiletto, strange to say, being about the best of the lot.

THEATRES.

Wirth's Grand Combination Circus still remains the great centre of attraction, and is well filled every night. Today there will be two performances, at each of which the present great performance will be given. During this week there is a great sensational performance on hand. A great spectacular drama will be given, illustrating an attack on a settler's hut by Indians and a rescue by Cow-boys. This will be quite a novelty, and is sure to draw.

The Pavilion opened last night under the management of Messrs. Waldorf and Co. There is is an open air concert every night, and nothing can be more pleasant than listening to good music during the warm weather. In a few days there will be many amusements, of which due notice will be given.

Special Notices.

MISSION IN ALTAMIRANO.

His Lordship Dr. Espinosa, Bishop of Tiberiopolis, Padre Laphitz, Superior of San Juan and the Rev. Father P. J. Brady, Irish Chaplain of Chascomus, will open a Mission at Mahon's Chapel, Altamirano, F.C.S. on Sunday the 26th of January and will continue the same until the afternoon of the 28th. Dr. Espinosa will give confirmation twice a day, and those anxious to be confirmed will receive the necessary certificate from Father Brady in the chapel. The sermons in Spanish will be in the charge of Father Laphitz and chose in English of the Irish chaplain. On the first day the mission will be opened after the last Mass, which will be at 10 o'clock. To facilitate the convenience of the English-speaking Catholics of the neighbouring partidos, Father Brady will have Mass, etc., at the chapel on the Friday morning previous to the mission at 10 o'clock. It is to be hoped that all those who are not yet confirmed will profit during the mission. Dr. Espinosa and his fellow labourers will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mahon at their estancia.

LETTERS FROM THE RIO SALADO.

IV.

"The skipper he blew a whiff from his pipe,
And a scornful laugh laughed he."

I own the title of this letter doesn't fit. We are on the Calchaqui river now. According to maps, it takes its origin from several large and mysterious lagunas, with picturesque names: "Laguna de los Aves, del Palmar, del Tigre," etc., and this tempted us when we came up to its junction with the Salado.

The aspect of the Pampa has changed. In whatever direction we look we see nothing but a boundless expanse of "tacurús." These, as I said before, are ant-hills, about a yard or two apart, about a yard high, and as hard as stone, though the terrible claws of the ant-eater rip them up with ease. On them grow the "Gynereum," which, in Europe, ornament our hot-houses with their long, sharp leaves and their white, delicate tufts borne on slender stalks. Here they grow as they please, and in such numbers and confusion that they form a "prairie," in which a man is perfectly hidden, so that the unwary hunter may very well get lost among the innumerable and tortuous paths trodden by ant-eaters, jaguars, "carpinchos," etc. It is true he can climb on a "tacurú," at the risk of being seen, but then he'll himself see nothing but the immense desert with the white plumes undulating. Here and there, where they find room, grow patches of dwarf palm trees, with dark-green, palmeated leaves, also a guest of our hot-houses. Near the water grows another kind of palm: a lofty, straight stem, wearing a crown of hanging leaves. These, as a rule, stand isolated, and look very sad and "ennuyés," as if they'd like to commit suicide if they only knew how. A few "chañares" and "curupís" complete the landscape.

Groping its weary way through the plain, under the dazzling sun, the river flows; and, in the river, one or two men are slowly and moodily hauling up the "canea," whilst others are roaming along the shores.

The grumblers are disgusted. They openly curse and lament the day on which they were foolish enough to embark. They want to go back to the haunts of men, where is bread, and "yerba," and sugar, and tobacco, and "caña." They don't like broiling in the sun and stung by mosquitoes, be it the common mosquito, or a small, fair mosquito abundant hereabouts, or the gigantic and beautiful "mosquito de Cayasta," with its slender, elegant legs ringed with black and white. They strongly object to having "bichos colorados" burrowing in their skins, or "piques" in their toes. Neither of them is pleased, when travelling through the "paja," at feeling his leg sinking suddenly into soft ground, for he knows well that in spite of the wonderful agility with which he'll drag it out, he'll find it covered with red ants who will sting and bite him furiously. They don't relish serpents. Towing the heavy "canoa" up stream has no charms for them. And then . . . . the Indians! . . . . . who, of course, lurk behind every "tacurú."

But the skipper won't hear of going back, and they dare not start by themselves on foot, for fear of going to a place where it is to be hoped grumblers cease from grumbling. On the other hand, they are too honest for open mutiny. So they only grumble, in a frightfully raging style.

And yet I must say they have some motives for that, poor boys!

There is no wind, and the sun and the mosquitoes are pitiless alike. All our provisions are exhausted, there is no more tobacco, no "yerba," no rice, no flour, we live on flesh only, seeking what we might devour. And, what is worse, we have not had a drink of water for the last thirty-six hours. For the water of the Calchaqui is nothing but a strong alkaline solution, dreadfully drastic in its effects. Our dogs have died one by one; only Jules is left, and he is no "great shakes", now.

The Grumblers hold council. Then they advance towards the skipper. They look as cheerful as a "nutria" with a harpoon in the stomach.

"This can't last, or we shall die" they say. "We have tried to dig wells, but the water is bitter everywhere. There are no "caraguatás" to get water from. You who are a scientific character"—(here a contemptuous smile)—"don't you know any way of getting the salt out of the water? Otherwise we must go back."

The captain fills his pipe with the leaves of a somewhat narcotic plant that grows hereabouts, smokes and ponders a while, then says:—

"I know no way of getting the salt out of the water, but we might try to get the water away from the salt. Bring the kettle and the Commercial Traveller.

We have a kettle, of course, a large kettle. The Commercial Traveller is a gun of the old style, with a very long barrel, such as Cooper's Hawk's Eye might have used if percussion caps had been invented in his time. (And allow me to tell you by way of parenthesis, kind reader, that I think such guns in an excursion like ours, where there is no necessity, as in an European "battue" for rapid shooting, are far from being the worst. They carry indifferently shot or bullet at a much greater distance than an ordinary breech loader, and do not implicate the transporting or manufacturing of ever so many cartridges.)

Well, the skipper fills the kettle—that is, two thirds of it—with water. The lid is then secured with wire and plentifully plastered over with mud. To the spout he fixes a short tube made with several folds of sail-cloth. To the other end of the tube he adjusts the muzzle of the Commercial Traveller. The kettle is then laid, so to speak, on its back over the fire, the spout pointing upwards. The water is made to boil, the steam rises in the spout, goes through the sail-cloth tube, which is well coated with mud, then through the barrel of the Commercial Traveller, which we are constantly cooling with wet rags, and finally comes out as pure water, which is preciously collected in a bottle.

In this way we pass the afternoon, sucking several "mates."

"How could you take mate," you will ask, "since you said you had no more yerba?"

Well, the skipper thought that "yerba" which has many of the properties of tea, might, like that oriental weed, be dried and used again and again. Alas! this was a delusion. Still, since thirst is better appeased when drink is taken slowly and in small doses, we make believe we are taking "mate," whilst our distilling apparatus goes on working.

"You did uncommon well," says the skipper to the Grumblers, "to refuse to fetch salt a week ago, because if we had salt, we should be only the more thirsty."

The Grumblers frown, but say nothing.

It happened in this wise: a week ago, we were out of salt. But our skipper had heard that on the shores of á rivulet, called the "Arroyo de las Viscacheras," there were deposits of it, of good quality. So, when we came to the mouth of that arroyo, he sent the grumblers to fetch some.

Now the grumblers grumble most against one another, and are eager fon a fight. One of them speaks Germar only. The other knows no German, save a few uncivil expressions. So they both converse in Spanish, and wonderful Spanish it is.

Says the Otterkiller (G. 1) on the way: "Where can that salt be?"

Says Mr. Fritz (G. 2): "I believe not that there any salt is.

Do you mean to say the captain is a liar?

Hum! He might mistaken be.

I won't go with a (here a flattering adjective) fellow who calls the captain a liar. I'll go back.

I'll also go."

They came back and reported. Then the skipper made a speech and began with due modesty by praising himself. He said: "I'm an old traveller, I can live without salt very well. You shall have to do the same. But you'll promise never, in days to come, to speak a word of complaint about it."

They promised. (And I must say they kept their word.)

So we are without salt since a week. It is pity, for a few days ago we killed our first "carpinchos," and we might have preserved some of the meat.

I was, that day, walking listlessly along the top of the "barranca." I had shot nothing as yet, but a single dove, a meagre fare. Suddenly the quiet waters below undulated and a head appeared above the surface, a head as large as a calf's, but rather like a seal's in shape, which fixed large black eyes on mine. It was an old "carpincho's" head. I hastily fired my duck-shot into it (a silly move). The animal plunged, the water got red. Then the beast appeared again and began to climb slowly, very slowly, like a paralytic pig, the opposite "barranca." I began firing my revolver, shouting frantically for help. But the "carpincho" disappeared among the trees.

Enraged, I walked down stream, firmly resolved to use hard and offensive language to the crew and dogs, when I found them in the thick of a fight with four "carpinchos." Two were being hauled into the boat, Jules and Anatole (then alive) were fighting with a third one, that was soon speared, and a bullet settled the fourth.

The "carpincho" ("Hydrochoerus capybara") belongs, like the "nutria," to the rat family. But it is a tremendous rat, as large as a pig, the which it resembles by its general shape and the taste of its flesh. The skin is very resisting, and proof against small shot.

The next day we followed the track of the old male and found him dead in a thicket. Two bullets had hit him. This day was devoted to feasting and melting of fat, at Mr. Fritz's request. Yet he could not help grumbling a little. He said, in a desponding voice:

"Ach! Why have we all at once so many river-pigs killed? Now must we eat so much we can. But, alas! never can we all eat."

T. Chapuis.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Readers, a Happy New Year and many of them to you all. Adhering to our old rule, we observe to-day as a strict holiday in our office, and shall be deprived of the great pleasure of publishing our next issue until Friday morning. In other columns we give all about the past year and our salute to the present, but in this column we have reserved a special place to express to you all our most sincere thanks for the support you have afforded us: support not merely confined to subscription, but extending to all the elements essential to the success of a good, readable, newsy and lively journal. We open the New Year with increased energy, subscriptions, advertisements and communications, and as we turn over the new page and open another volume of the book of time, we salute our readers with our unconquered motto: "Nil falsi audeam, nil veri non audeam dicere."

Neither House of Congress was "nene" enough to think of legislating on New Year's Eve, so there was no law-making yesterday.

Diplomatic banquets to parting ministers are the order of the day on both sides of the Plate. President Borda will give a grand "banquet d'adieu" to Minister Moreno on his departure for his new post as Argentine Minister in Italy. The ex-President Don Julio Herrera will also give him a grand dinner.

The quarter master and sailors of the "Capitania" of Montevideo who saved the lives of several English sailors on the occasion of the late accident to one of the Acorn's boats, yesterday visited that vessel and were presented with half a sovereign each by the captain. The quarter master was given a handsome barometer. The captain of the Acorn in a short address informed them that he made the presents personally, not officially, but that he had already communicated their gallant conduct to Her Majesty's Government.

The heat yesterday was flabbergasting and the perspiring citizens had all they could do to get through their business. By the afternoon and night trains there was a dash for the camp, Mar del Plata, Necochea, Cordoba etc; and a good few went to ever-attractive Montevideo. If the heat continue, there won't be many "conocidos" left in the city at the end of the week. The crowds in the Calle Florida and Avenida de Mayo last night were simply extraordinary.

Our enterprising colleagues La Prensa and La Nacion use up more paper and printing ink to-day than any of their colleagues under the sun, as they each issue an extra number of forty four pages, with a Summary of the dead year. The tremendous enterprise of our colleagues deserves the highest praise. For editors, statesmen, historians, statisticians, and all of that ilk, these mammoth encycyclopedic summaries are of the greatest value. But the mere sight of them frightens the general run of readers and subscribers out of their wits, lest they should be expected to wade through them.

The glory of Calle Florida has departed. The Carnival Corso will be held this year in Avenida de Mayo.

The holders of the following numbers in yesterday's Lottery felt in a rather happy frame of mind to begin the New Year with, and we congratulate them, taking it for granted that they are all readers, if not subscribers: 9031, $80,000; 9076, $20,000; 17500, $10,000; 7609, 19443, 21518, $ 2,000; 11727, 6348, 4968, 18107, 10431, 4727, 8316, $ 1,000; 12806, 18691, 5850, 17957, 8027, 10266, 5562, 21906, 21383, 2721, 15156, $ 500; 3693, 12021, 5599, 5177, 5249, 16677, 14921, 8376, 2221, 10659, 2503, 5304, 4539, $ 200.

We have been so pressed with other news that we have to apologize to our readers for having forgotten the Abyssinians and the Italian campaign; but things are getting hotter than ever in the land where the famed Queen of Sheba reigned; and, talking of that Queen reminds us to ask if any of our readers can tell us the three questions which Her Majesty put to Solomon. The answers, of course, are not for publication. We note in the telegrams received yesterday that another Abyssinian Raz or General has been distinguishing himself, and, strange to say, his name is Raz O'Leary, possibly a near relative of that celebrated Mrs. O'Leary whose unfortunate milch cow burnt down half the city of Chicago. Over 10,000 fresh reinforcements have arrived from Italy at Massouah, and the Italians now feel so strong that they have resumed the offensive. But "'tis all but a dream at best", if our friends think they are going to conquer Abyssinia. If they can maintain their foothold at Massouah it is the most they will do. Julius Cæsar himself, if he were in command of the Italians, would not be able to conquer the country, and it was a mistake from beginning to end that the Italians ever set foot in that country.

At the corner of the Plaza Once and Calle Rivadavia an Italian "tendero" has astonished the whole "barrio" by a large canvas, painted sign with a huge burning comet painted thereon, and advising the public that, as according to Flammarion, the end of the world is at hand and the big comet with a huge burning tail close in to the Plaza Once, he means to clear out, and therefore liquidates his business at the most ruinously low prices. The wares of old Antolycus are not needed in the other world, and all the dry goods on the shelves of his 'tienda' are offered to those who doubt the comet and the approaching smash-up at such ridiculously low prices that it would seem the affrighted "tendero" means what he says and considers that the end of the Plaza Once and the whole world is at hand.

We received yesterday from an old London friend one of the richest and most invaluable presents for a hard worked editor: 23 "Murray's Handbooks" of almost every known country from Cork to Timbuctoo. Enriched with these useful books, we are now in a position to give our readers full particulars of every place in Europe, Asia, Africa and America where an earthquake, or revolution, or anything alarming occurs. With our New London Atlas and this "Handbook" library we feel that we possess the real elements of editorial victories.

Messrs. Moore and Tudor may claim the merit of having put down the nicest side walk pavement in this city. Michael Angelo himself could not have done it better, and as it adjoins our office we have to thank the firm for the improvement. Not even in Rome can they show a side walk mosaic to beat Moore and Tudor's in Calle Maipú.

Some kind London friend has sent us the Railway Times Nov. 30th, 1895, with request to publish some paragraphs reflecting on a colleague whose remarks on railway management in the Plate have offended some Railway magnates in London. We have no room on New Year's Day for such matter.

We return our best thanks to the "Centro Empleados de Comercio" for their kind invitation to a grand "tertulia" on 1st January. We deplore to say that we find it impossible to accept all these kind invitations which are pouring in on us. Last year we went to more "bailes," dinner parties, free lunches, wedding parties and breakfasts than in any previous year of our editorial existence, and the pressure of copy on our columns is positively on a parity with the pressure of hospitalities by our numerous friends. This year we must be more abstemious, and live more the life of a friar.

We conversed in our office yesterday with two gentlemen who have made the tour of the north of this province, the south of Santa Fé, a small bit of Córdoba and wound up at Rio Cuarto. They told us that the whole country up there is still full of maize, and that if we paid 1.40 we could buy more maize than all the steamers in the Plate could load in 3 months.

We have received a letter from an old friend, who complains of the publication of the Arrow's letter against the British Hospital, which is a meritorious institution that claims every support. We stand by the old British Hospital, and request our sharp colleague that henceforth it will reserve for its own columns its own letters, as, Heaven knows, the STANDARD has enough to do in directing its own affairs without meddling with those of others. Our correspondent reminds us that the very name Arrow is of unhappy memory in English history, as it was a Chinese lugger called the "Arrow" that embroiled England in a war with China, owing to the excessive zeal of Sir John Bowring. We, for our part, must say that the Arrow has shot wide of the mark in making the grand old British Hospital its target.

The funeral of the late Mr. Russell yesterday afternoon was largely attended, and the whole British circle of the city was well and fully represented. Mr. Russell's eldest son, a young man of say 24 years, is in the Banda Oriental, and much esteemed by all who know him.

We have the pleasure of welcoming Mr. Hamilton Grant Dunlop of Montevideo, who has just come across from Colonia, where he reports terribly wet weather which has seriously damaged the wheat (Canadian Club) and rye (Monogram) crops. He finds fault with our story about the capture of the island of Jersey by the British, and states that island is known as the 'Virgin Isle', because, since the time of William the Conqueror, it has always belonged to England. Mr. Dunlop is an authority on the subject as he resided for a long time in Jersey. He returns to the Mount to-night.

We thank Don Miguel Lanus for his beautiful New Year's Gift of glass paper-weights and glass pens. The latter are the grandest things we have seen in our editorial career. They write like greased lightning and beat the ball-pointer into a dozen of cocked hats.

We have just received from Messrs Peuser his well known Almanack for which we heartily thank them. The engravings are beautiful and the contents leave nothing to desire. Amongst the various subjects treated on we come across a description of the loss of the Spanish Cruiser "Reina Regente" and further on an interesting chapter entitled: "Del Cielo y del Suelo" signed by Roberto Dupuy de Lóme, who describes in an admirable manner the very narrow limits of the human understanding and the smallness of the earth when compared with any of those bright specks that cover the sky on a fine clear summer's night, he also alludes to the great errors that Locke's aphorism on the Analisis of Ideas, viz: "Nihil est in intellectu quin prius fuerit in sensus" has led human intelligence to. In fact as an Almanack it is a model and as a work of art a treasure.

There's a regular row amongst the cadets of the Naval School, they all expected spending New Year's day in the centre of their families, when paff! the order from head quarters come that they have to embark, well young men the sooner you get accustomed to the changes of life the letter.

The Danube which is expected shortly brings out two old friends Don Eduardo Casey and Mr. Brett, these gentlemen we believe are out here for some important business.

We beg to thank the "Cromolitografia Italo-Platense" for a highly artistic specimen of their art in the shape of a New Year Kalendar representing a charming peasant scene on one of the lakes of the "bel paese."

The fortune of war in Cuba appears more capricious even than it has proverbially been since mankind began to fight, which was a pretty long time ago. The latest news is rather favourable to the proud and haughty Dons. It is about time for Campos and his 100,000 men to do something.

"The cry is still, they come." Another N. Y. G., in the shape of a bill "cartera" from the "Economia Comercial" Insurance Company of which Mr. A. Mastropaolo, is Director Géneral. We return our best thanks.

Some of our colleagues say that the good-bye banquet to the Chilian Minister at the Government House on Sunday was the dullest feed on record: no flow of soul: no wit or humour: every man at the table as solemn as an owl and as sober as a Judge: the guest of the evening in the wrong place: no knife and fork for the genial and popular Austrian Minister: "en fin" the whole thing a frigid fiasco. Who is responsible for all this pot luck, or rather pot-ill-luck pottering.

Our Temperance friends ought to start the New Year in a happy frame of mind, it nobody else does. Dr. Susini, Chief of the Analytic Department, has reported to the Salubrity Commissioners that the pipe water supplied to the city contains now much fewer "bacteria" than it did a year ago. We hope this gratifying statement will not lead to any excess in water drinking, the most pernicious of all excesses.

What next, at this extraordinary end of the century? Even the direst ills that flesh is heir to are turned to profit. A London employment agency has instituted a unique departure. Some short time back an advertisement appeared in a morning paper which read: "Wanted—A young man suffering from pulmonary or heart disease. Examination free." Inquiry at the office of the advertiser elicited the information that the "young man" was wanted for various hospitals which were anxious to get live subjects for clinical demonstration. "The applicants are received here," said the manager of the agency, "and promptly examined. The elegible ones—that is, those who are found to be victims of the two diseases in question—are given cards for presentation at the hospitals which we serve. They are paid well for their services, and they suffer no inconvenience from their experience at the hands of the surgeon. Sometimes, in fact, they reap benefits which they had not counted on, some of them regaining health under the treatment. So you, see, pulmonary and heart affections command a sort of premium. Sometimes we find among the applicants some cases even more interesting than we had expected. These men, of course, command more money than the ordinary sufferers."

Neither old Europe nor new America seems to have much stomach for arbitration. Brazil has finally refused to submit the Trinidad question to arbitration. Now, what will our Cousin Jonathan do in this fresh case?

According to yesterday's cablegrams, Uncle Sam looks rather like "going for" the Grand Turk for killing his missionaries, Go it, Samuel. There is no Monroe doctrine in Europe to prevent you. Turkey for the Turks is all bosh: they dont care about it, even when stuffed with truffles and flanked by Yorkshire ham.

The mouths and eyes of all the pedagogues in the country must be as wide open as the Straits of Dover at the astounding news published by a Cordoba paper to the effect that Captain Ellis Arthur, Professor in the National College there, and formerly very well known here as a resident of Flores, has just inherited from his mother a fortune of a million sterling!! Ladies with such fortunes are by no means plentiful in England, however numerous they may be in the U. States. We should say that the story is simply an Innocents' Day lark of our Cordoba contemporary, and not worth even a suit of clothes.

There is a grand musical and Terpsychorean racket at the Delicias Hotel in Adrogué to-night. The place is crowded with summer visitors, amongst them the families of Bell, Barrow, Gregory, Lowe, Cook, Wharton, ex-President Pellegrini, Uthoff, Trelles, Nathan, Smith, Moller, Peuser, Mansilla, Cazabon, Kristufeck, Hopkins, Señora de Bordeu etc. etc.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Murphy, of Almagro, and family leave to-night for Mar del Plata, to pass the summer months there.

The following are the principal prizes drawn in the Montevideo lottery yesterday: No. 2703, $20,000; 5763, $1,000; 4221, 4246, $500; 2092, 5361, 5270, 7740, 4312, 1844, $200; 11719, 1967, 1602, 8745; 11431, 2056, 3164, 3541, 3546, 10390, 9100, 2804 and 8438.

We are asked to announce that Dr. E. Graham Pilgrim having returned from his vacation; will resume his consulting room and general work on and after Friday, January 3rd.

We have to thank our old friends Messrs Bagley and Co. for their never-failing N. Y. G. of "Cosas buenas." Also the Biekert Brewery Company for the next thing to beer, a Pilsen Bock Kalender with the picture of a charming "fraulein" who would look more bewitching still if she had a trifle more clothes on her shapely back.

THE OLD YEAR.

The old year 's dead, and passed away,
To join its comrades gone before,
The ghosts of all the years of yore,
Amidst the Stygian meadows grey.

If eyes are filled with bitter tears,
If life's hard troubles sore have pressed,
It's not your fault, go take your rest,
Amidst your long dead comrade years.

Poor dead old year, yon're done your best,
It's not your fault if things went wrong,
If blame there be to fate belong,
Sink thou old friend to well earned rest.

The good men do on sand is writ,
'Tis so with men, 'tis so with thee;
The good days gone forgot will be,
The bad, on stone will deep be bit.

Last night the bells tolled out thy knell
Their echoes did the New Year bring,
"The King is dead; long live the King."
Good bye old friend, a long farewell.

THE Buchanan Blend
HOUSE OF LORDS
Refreshment Department, May 14th
To Messrs. James Buchanan & Co. Whisky Merchants, London.
Gentlemen:

ON 'CHANGE.

Tuesday, December 31st 1895.

Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 229.00%

The last day of the year! Not much interest was attached to the event in speculative circles, as the whole market presents for the last three months a thoroughly liquidated appearance. Speculation in the Bolsa is at a very low ebb, and the exciting field-days are now a thing of the past. All the big speculators have been wiped out, and business on'Change is now reduced to a kind of "pichuleo," small dabbling and small margins. The market, therefore, was not prepared to see any exceptional activity round the ring, and great was the surprise of all when no less than a round million gold was thrown on the ring for cash. Whence all the gold came was a puzzle, and there was a sharp rush for paper money to take up the specie; such was the squeeze that the contango rushed up to 3½ for end of January.

About 1½ million gold dollars changed hands at the first ring to-day. Business for cash exceeded a million dollars; the premium opened weak at 230%, fell to 228.80%, and closed at 229%. The market was not prepared for such an avalanche of cash gold, and the wonder was that gold did not fall many points lower. Two hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of January; the premium opened at 233%, fell to 232%, and closed at 232.50% A small amount was sold for end of February at 234%.

As we anticipated, to-day's liquidation closed in the vicinity of 230% premium, in spite of a brilliant charge of the light bearish brigade and a heavy supply of one million gold dollars cash. In some quarters great hopes were entertained that to-day's sudden, heavy attack would put gold down to near 225%, but they were shattered, as the bulls scraped paper money together with comparative ease. Outsiders are again beginning to believe in a fall and think that the premium will go to 220% in January. Whenever a belief of this kind becomes general, it is wise to look out for the unexpected, although daily cables may announce from London gold consignments to the Plate.

Stocks and shares were more active to-day. National Cedulas F were steady at 84¼. A quarter of a million of La Plata Cedulas changed hands; the price at first went to 18, but closed at 17.40. Catalinas were quoted at 3.30.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

Our optimistic neigbbours the Orientales have got so disheartened over the falling tendeney in the quotations of their Consuls in London that they have gone to the extreme lengths of using the railway and bank business as a lever to sustain the prices, threatening to chuck up the whole business unless that collapsing symptom disappears. The argument has evidently been effective, as the rates have stopped sinking, but it is a very poor guarantee for the future. There is nothing about either of the new banks.

Santiago, which was almost a Sahara from the prolonged drought, is now suffering from an overstraining of that celestial dispensation likened by Shakespeare to mercy, that is an overplus of rain; the stock are so thin and weak that they are unable to move and die in the mud. It has rained for three days continuously, and the weather is reported still very watery. Things, however, will now pick up rapidly. There is another stick up in the Canal works through a dearth of circulating medium, all the more unfortunate that another month would have seen the business finished; however, it is to be hoped that the stoppage is only temporary.

The latest phase of the Saccharine business is that a sugar-king in Rosario announces with great complacency that the philosopher's stone has been discovered, the application of which will benefit producers, holders and consumers, in fact make everybody interested in sugar supremely happy. This is certainly grand news for the trade, and Congress will feel tremendously relieved. The result of the application will be looked forward to with great interest.

If there is one thing that our friends and neighbours the Paraguayans do under stand thoroughly, it is the watering of stock, and a cases in point is the Yerba Company known as the Industrial Paraguaya, which at the general meeting held on Monday resolved to double its capital with the exclusive object of paying an annual dividend in shares. It is a very convenient way truly of keeping shareholders satisfied, as the dividends will be undoubtedly handsome, but we apprehend that the shareholders will find in the long run that this kind of income is not very substantial. The Capital at present stands at 4 million dollars, so that it will soon be 8 millions. We believe the meeting also approved a motion providing for the investment of $200,000 annually for five years in yerba plantations, and to reinforce the reserve annually by 10 to 20 per cent.

Like mining, the development of our lumber trade is in a most backward state, though of late years much has been done in this line, nothing, however, in comparison to the possibilities of the business; and we call the attention of the capitalists immersed in sugar, which, as can be seen, is suffering from a crisis of over production, to the advisability of getting out uf cane and into timber. Repeatedly, we believe, some North Americen syndicates have sent down experts to examine the prospects of going into lumber on a large scale, but though reports were favorable nothing was ever done, the principal if not the only impediment being the great lack of communication with the lumber districts. With a view to shewing how this business stands we give the following particulars which pertain to the year now closed. The movement for the 12 months is estimated at nine millions currency, the classes of timber most in demand having been cedar, lapacho, curupaú, ivirapita. iviraro, walnut, tipa, ñandubay and algarrobo, the first place corresponding to the quebracho colorado, which in various forms has (principally rollizos) changed hands to an extent of 2¼ millions of dollars for foreign account, and ¾ millions for home use; the posts being estimated at $468,000, the beams at $129,600 and sleepers at $2,800,000, the latter summing to $300,000, disposed of to various railways. Cedar comes next with an output for export of 1½ millieu feet estimated at $195,000, and 4,800,000 feet for local requirements valued at $648,000. The lapacho, curupan, iviraro and iviripatia account for a quarter of a million feet worth $215,200, and quebracho blanco, guazaibi, palo blanco and palo amarillo 200,000 kilos worth say $50,000 The algarrobo output has been 360 waggons-loads valued at $252,000. In ñandubay postc there have been 1,200,000 worth $150,000, whilst for fuel the output has been 1¼ million kilos worth $216,000.

One slight hitch was reported in the liquidation to-day.

Circulars were sent round to-day announcing that the well-known firm of Worms, Josse and Co. has been changed to the style of Worms and Co., the management continuing in the hands of Mr. J. F. Lewis.

The death of the leading German merchant, Mr. Ernest Moller, spread a gloom in the hall and in the market at large. The sad event took place at Adrogué this morning, where Mr. Moller succumbed unexpectedly, but surrounded by his family, comprising his son and three daughters. Deceased was only 58 years of years. Born in Rio, he came to the Plate 40 years ago, and joined as partner the firm of Biber and Co. in Montevideo. He crossed the Plate and in 1867 started the well-known firm of Moller and Co. He was a representative man in every sense of the word. Of noble lineage he had a still nobler heart as the whole German community can testify: yet such was his retiring disposition that he refused all the honourable posts that his countrymen offered to him: he was beloved and esteemed by all, native and foreign. He came from a good old German family, settled in Portugal for the last 200 years: of the Mollers may be said: "qui trans mare current coelum non animum mutant." for they alway remain characteristically German. Mr. Ernest Moller's mother is still living in Portugal. We ender to the sorrowing fomily in common with the whole market our sincere condolence in their irreparable loss.

This being the monthly settlement there was no second ring to-day. The chief business of the afternoon was the withdrawal of gold from the liquidation which was much larger than expected—nothing less than $1,600,000 gold an amount that made the bears sture. There appears to be lots of paper money knocking about.

To-day's telegrams announce another shipment of gold, under one hundred thousand pounds, from London for Buenos Aires.

Exchange continued in "statu quo"—very dull at yesterday's rates. Discounts were quoted at 7½ % on paper and 7% on gold.

Telegrams from Rio this evening quoted the rate of exchange on London at 9 1/16. Telegrams from Valparaiso announce a heavy eflux of coin from Chile.

We beg to thank our old friend Mr. George Prins for and at the same time to congratulate him on, his stupendous addition to the Directories of this Republic publisbed by him as the Director-general of "La Prevision" an office for general commercial information. We have not yet had time to thoroughly revise the work, but at the first glance can clearly see that it must be, both from its fullness and the manner of its arrangement, an extremely useful "Guia" and one which it will be hard to beat. We recommend it to all who have commercial dealings in this country.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Our southern peripatetic arrived up today and reports very heavy rains in the south and great stretches under water. Chascomus, he says, is very cheerful and lively, as the night he spent in that town the whole population was in the plaza, whilst the lake is a constant source of aquatic amusement. Old Mr. Dodds, who is now well over the century, is still hale and hearty. In live stock transactions he reports the sale of 2000 old sheep for consumo from estancia San Gabriel, Rauch, at $2.70, Mr. F. Redondo, of same place, having bought 5000 wethers mestizos Lincoln at $5.60 whilst Messrs. Molinuevo Huos. y Cia. have bought no less than 21,000 wethers, 10,000 mestizo Lincoln and 11,000 Rambouillet, the price being kept to reserve.

The sale is reported of 400 steers for export from Messrs. Correa and Larrazabal's estancia La Trinidad, at $115 per head: buyer Mr. Ewart.

Messrs. Risso Patron and Co. report the following sales:

Property Corrientes 4454, between Pringles and Yatay, 10x50, with 10 rooms, reserve $8,000 for 13,700

5 small houses Villa Ortuzar. Calles Heredia and Cavour, at 1850 to 2000 each.

House 2a Cordoba and Bulnes for 4,800.

Several sites in Calles Guayanas (formerly 2a Cordoba) 550 square yards each, at $2 per square yard.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

In comparison with this time last year we find that our markets are far behind that date. The arrivals were more or less the same, but the difference comes in the sales.

The stock on hand at this time last year was 12,000,000 kilos in the Central to-day it is more or less the same. The last day of the year has had a certain effect on exporters. they have now to buy maize to complete the cargoes of vessels which they had contracted for linseed etc. Owing to the past "temporal" of the contracts signed between exporters and the colonists, several parties are not able to comply with them, and for this reason exporters are compelled to buy produce to fill the vessels that they have chartered.

This and the holidays have thrown a certain damper over the markets, which are still labouring under the effects of the past week. "Artistas" are now more occupied with settling up their various accounts than in making bargains with the consignatarios. In our last issue we reproduced Messrs. Devoto Balbiani and Co.'s review on the week. That review depicts the feeling and condition of all produce very ably, in fact they are one of the standing authorities on the subject.

The arrivals in the Central Produce Market were 800,000 kilos; the sales were small.

The following were the sales in our Markets:—

The Boston Commercial Bulletin gives the following interesting notes on foreign wool supplanting the local one:—

The sales of the week are 2,831,000 pounds, against 3,971,500 pounds last week, and 4,111,000 in the corresponding week last year. The sales to date show an increase of 13,378,289 pounds domestic and an increase of 58,083,600 pounds foreign, from the sales to the same date in 1894. The receipts to date show a decrease of 8,815 bales domesttc and an increase of 217,825 bales foreign. The market is dull, though on the last two oa three days a little better inquiry was manifest. The feature, if there be one, is the neglect of medium wools of all kinds, and the firmness of fine fleeces. American fine fleece is naturally aided by the advance of Australian, which competes with it. A really choice lot of Ohio XX and above is to-day worth 20 cents. American buyers are glutted with wool just at present and are waiting to see whether Congress will restore the duty. The general belief is that a duty of five to six cents will be reimposed very shortly.

In a French review we see that the rise in cereals in the American markets has not altered prices in those markets. The sales in London are too insignificant for any one to form definite prices there from. The Christmas holidays have knocked business on the head in that market. The arrivals and sales here were flojo. In the Once 1200 bags of wheat were unloaded, a few lots were sold at 7.30 and 7.60, in Rosario 6.50 and 6.60 was paid for new wheat to be delivered during January and February. The demand closed steady for this article.

A little more animation was noticed in maize, 18,400 bags arrived in the Once, exporters paid in Darsena 3.50 and 3.60, in the other ports 3.30.

We heard of 150 tons of linseed transation in Rosario yesterday to be delivered during January at 3.08 gold. There are several other operations on hand, but the prices and conditions are reserved.

Business in Montevideo was dull, next to nothing was done in cereals, in the saladero line the Casa Blanca saladero sold 73 pipes of tallow at 9.05 the 100 kilos.

The wool markets were slightly more animated, the biggest parcel sold was 35,000 kilos from Salto at 2.28, 10,000 do from Minas at 2.10, and besides this some 85,000 kilos were sold at prices varying from 2.07 to 2.45 the 10 kilos.

New Year.

A happy and prosperous new year we wish to all, but particularly to our good friends and customers who so generously patronized us during the expiring one.

The rush on our store during the last fortnight was quite unprecedented and, at times, we were under the apprehension that our splendid stock would be utterly exhausted before the arrival of fresh resources. We must confess that this fear was not without foundation, as the steamer in which we had an immense and varied cargo, was under slow despatch; but, fortunately, through great exertions, we got it unloaded and warehoused at the critical moment and have now the pleasure of offering same to all who wish to favour us with their custom.

This truly magnificent assortment contains the very best articles; roduced in the world for our line of trade, some of which have been specially selected for the coming festival of New Year. On this day the spirit seems to get unburthened of its past fatigues and troubles, more so if enlivened with some of our excellent whiskey rare old port or fine wines and cordials; the mind also, on this occasion, acquires greater activity, hope revives and the body apparently renews itself, that is if nourished with our unsurpassed preserved victuals, fruits, jams etc. and spiced with the special preparations for this purpose we have on hand.
